POWER AND DATA

At Tremain, we integrate connectivity as one of our solutions. That's why our furniture offers the option to add modular harness-based electrification systems.

We provide 2 electrification options: 4 circuits and 1 circuit. The system includes spacious ducts for cable management and preparation for integrating voice and data systems.

TRUST TREMAIN

- We are a North American based company with quality standards. This allows us to optimize our response and ensure quality in our products.
- We comply with international specifications for furniture regulation.
- We have great flexibility for the development of special projects as well as for the production of products with specific characteristics or materials.
- We provide personalized consulting in each project until achieving the best solution for the end customer.
